

Create your own profile

As part of your Case Study Link membership, you have the opportunity to create your own profile page.

You'll be given your own unique URL for your profile page, which you can use on your email signature, or send across to commissioning editors with any ideas that you pitch to them. Here are two examples of user profiles:

<http://www.casestudylink.co.uk/directory/suzanne>
<http://www.casestudylink.co.uk/directory/talktothepress>

The directory will be marketed to the commissioning editors and magazines, newspaper and production staff. They will also be included in our weekly marketing emails to commissioning editors. The CSL directory is a useful resource for commissioning editors seeking to contact you.

You'll be sent a password and username that will allow you to log into the directory and complete your profile.

Once you have your username and password, please login here to complete your profile:
<http://www.casestudylink.co.uk/wp-admin/>

In your profile you'll be able to add details about you or your agency, along with a photo, and details about the work you specialise in.

If for any reason you do not receive your password within three days of signing up, please first check your junk folder, and then contact Ollie who can resend you password:
<mailto:info@casestudylink.co.uk>

Kind regards,

Punteha van Terheyden
